9. ROUNDABOUT Keep the cocktail-party conversation going while you prep and entertain. This versatile staging, serving and storage unit is a counter extension that adds functionality to the kitchen. Autour, designed by Karen Williams, features a butcher-block top and is installed within existing cabinetry. Price upon request, through St. Charles of New York (T), A&D, NYC, 212-838-2812, stcharlesofnewyork.com.

10. OUT OF SIGHT Now you see it; now you don't! In this custom Deane, Inc. kitchen design, sliding slabs of Taj Mahal quartzite create an elegant and functional backsplash that hides two hidden niches—one with bleached rift-cut oak shelves for cooking spices and the other with an integrated television and sound system. Prices vary, Deane, Inc., Stamford, 203-327-7008, New Canaan, 203-972-8836, deaneinc.com.

11. HIDDEN TREASURE The TM Italia bespoke kitchen island for Design-Apart features the ultimate, big-picture storage solution. A retractable countertop opens up to reveal the sink, faucet and cooktop, so it's easy to store all of your kitchen gadgets out of sight in one fell swoop. $40,000, Design-Apart, NYC, 646-202-0116, design-apart.com, mitalia.com.

12. POCKET PERFECT The hub of the home has evolved, bringing a new angle to interiors. Arclinea's Spatia project delivers the innovative Pocket—a recessed door system for the kitchen that conceals cooking and laundry areas completely from view. Shown with Nordic Oak finish, Elipsia handles in stainless steel and LED lighting system. Price upon request, Arclinea New York, NYC, 212-447-4000, arclinea-nyc.com.
